

Sent on behalf of Wyoming Republican Party Chairman Bryan E. Miller

The Republican National Committee has filed to intervene in the lawsuit Equality State Policy Center v. Gray to defend Wyoming's law requiring proof of citizenship to register to vote.

Wyoming Secretary of State Chuck Gray responded to the news saying that he “welcomes the RNC motion to help defend Wyoming’s commonsense, conservative election integrity law requiring proof of citizenship for registering to vote.” <https://cowboystatedaily.com/2025/06/26/rnc-wants-to-help-chuck-gray-defend-wyomings-voter-citizenship-law/>.

On Thursday, June 26th, Wyoming Republican Party Chairman Bryan E Miller had in-person meetings in Washington DC with the leadership of the RNC State Strategies Team and the Political Office Team at the White House that proved very productive for Wyoming. This intervention by the RNC is the first of many issues we can expect assistance with in the coming election cycle.

RNC Intervenes to Uphold Proof of Citizenship in Wyoming Elections

WASHINGTON, D.C. – Republican National Committee (RNC) Chairman Michael Whatley released the following statement after the RNC intervened in a lawsuit to defend Wyoming’s law requiring proof of citizenship to vote.

“Only American citizens should be able to vote in American elections,” said Chairman Whatley. “Democrats are suing Wyoming for a simple reason: they want to make it easier for noncitizens to vote. That’s unacceptable, which is why the RNC is stepping in to defend the state’s proof of citizenship requirement, a policy that the American people overwhelmingly support.”

Background

- The Republican National Committee is intervening in the case of Equality State Policy Center v. Gray to defend Wyoming’s law requiring proof of citizenship to register to vote.
- This lawsuit was brought by Democrat attorney Marc Elias and left-wing group the Equality State Policy Center.
- This year, Wyoming’s state legislature passed House Bill 156, which requires documentary proof of citizenship in order to register to vote in the state.
- Democrats and radical left-wing groups are attempting to undermine election integrity by forcing Wyoming to register voters without documentary proof of citizenship.
- The American people overwhelmingly support providing proof of citizenship to vote, with 83% in favor of this policy.
